Hope to Host District Band Festival Sat.

Saturday Hope will be host to the 1960 district band festival, consisting of the southwest corner of Arkansas from Mena to Hot Springs down to Magnolia.

This year is the largest District participation since the Arkansas School Band and Orchestra Association was organized in 1924.

These students will be accompanied by a large number of adults. The general public is invited to attend the band concerts which will be held in the senior high auditorium all day Saturday from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

There will be 557 individual events on solos and ensembles including about 900 students during the day. These events will take place in the Jr. High building. There will be 126 twirling events which will be held in the Hammon stadium throughout the day.

Judges for the events are: F. G. Ward, Atlanta, Texas; Elden Janzen, Greenville, Texas; Harold Ramsey, Bossier City, La.; Lida and Rula Beasley, Shreveport, La.; Frances MacBeth, Ouachita Baptist College; Bill Briggs, Texarkana, Texas; Ken Larsen, Bossier City, La.; Bob Cing, Mars, Helena, Ark.; Arden Watson, Shreveport, La.; Corky Bradshaw, Dumas, Ark.

This festival is sponsored by the Hope Band Auxiliary.

HD Leaders Discuss Good Food Habits

Good food habits promote health and extend the prime of life. A homemaker's job is being in charge of the family nutrition includes three areas of work: 1. Plan and prepare well balanced meals. 2. Prepare food so it is nutritious as well as appealing. 3. Serve food attractively.

These points were emphasized at the home demonstration foods and nutrition leaders training meeting held March 29 at 1:30 in the small courtroom of the county courthouse.

Mrs. O. B. Hodnett, county foods leader, introduced Mrs. Blanch Randolph, Extension Nutrition Specialist, who conducted the meeting on "Improving Food Habits." Many of our health problems today are caused by poor eating habits and women are found to be on the bottom of the list mainly due to snacking too much," stated Miss Randolph. It is up to each individual to decide to work on improving poor food habits. Many women will have to learn to eat a better variety of foods or improve in their cooking habit to conserve nutritive value. Also they must learn to buy the enriched food products in the grocery stores.

The 3 areas showing the greatest shortages in the diets today include the milk group, the green and yellow vegetable group, and the citrus fruit group. Homemakers need to check carefully to include these in family meals every day because each has a very important part in a well balanced diet.

Mrs. Joann Phillips, Hempstead County Home Demonstration Agent, discussed how the leaders present this material on food habits at their club meetings during April. Ten clubs were represented at this training meeting.

Settlements of Negroes Sealed Off in Africa

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Three thousand armed white soldiers and sailors sealed off two big Negro settlements near Cape Town today as South Africa's embattled white supremacy government sought to check mounting racial turmoil.

The navy men formed a cordon around the Nyanga township while the army encircled Langa. Nobody was allowed to enter or leave the settlements.

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd carried out his threat to use regular armed forces to prevent new Negro demonstrations after rounding up 234 leaders of the campaign of defiance against the government's race laws. Some white liberals and Indians were among those arrested.

A big army convoy moved into this metropolis, 800 miles north of the parliamentary seat of Cape Town, amid rumors that Negroes were planning a march on Ft. Johannesburg Prison, where many of their leaders are held.

The South African Parliament met through the night in Cape Town to speed action on legislation for the outlawing of the African National Congress, the Pan-Africanist Congress and other organizations accused of plotting a "massive revolt."

The government has already assumed wide powers under the state of emergency proclaimed Thursday for most cities and towns, including the right to arrest anyone in the interest of public safety. The regulations include:

Allied Test Ban Plan Formally Given to Russia

By TOM OCHILTREE

GENEVA (AP)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin proposed today that a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests be linked to a promise from world powers to renounce possession and use of atomic and hydrogen weapons. He told the 10-nation disarmament conference these two steps should be taken in advance of a general disarmament treaty.

If this approach is accepted, Zorin said, it will open the way to solution of the nuclear problem as a whole and represent "an important act of confidence."

The Western powers described Zorin's move as an attempt to commit them to a moral obligation which cannot be enforced. Zorin made his proposal only a few hours before the United States and Britain planned to challenge the Soviet Union promptly to conclude an enforceable test ban treaty.

The plan challenged the Soviet Union to remove the obstacles to a partial test ban treaty by agreeing to:

Final Rites for J. T. Hutson Sat.

Funeral services for J. T. Hutson who died yesterday at his home near Nashville, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Belton. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery. Mr. Hutson is survived by his wife, four sons, three sisters and two brothers, including Joe Hutson of Hope.

Damage Small in Local Accident

Autos driven by Jane Webb and Dwight Ridgill collided yesterday at Second and Harvey streets with only minor damage resulting, according to City Officer Fullerton.

Bans Plan for Insurance for Retired

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee today turned down a plan for government-paid health insurance for retired persons.

By a 17-4 vote, the tax-writing committee refused to include the plan in a general bill revising the Social Security system.

Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-R.I.) told newsmen that despite the committee action he will try to force a House vote.

Forand, author of the health insurance bill, said he will seek signatures of a majority of the House members to bring to the floor a separate bill calling for hospitalization, surgical and nursing home benefits.

The 10 Republicans on the committee were reported to have voted solidly against the plan, which is opposed by President Eisenhower's administration. They were joined by seven Democrats on the key vote.

The American Medical Assn. opposes the Forand plan. A number of powerful labor organizations favor it.

Library Week Over Nation Is April 3-9

"Open Wonderful New Worlds — Wake Up and Read" is the theme for the third National Library Week to be observed April 3 to 9. National Library Week has been organized by the National Book Committee, a non-profit citizens' organization devoted to the wider and wiser use of books. The program has the full cooperation of the American Library Association and the cooperation of many participating professional and voluntary organizations.

The Week is a movement to focus attention on the vital role of the printed word in our national life. It is to call attention to reading and the importance of libraries of all kinds, from the bookshelves in the home to the vast collections in public and university libraries.

The aim of the National Library Week is a better-read better-informed America. The Week is not an end in itself, but a means of working toward the attainment of many goals.

Jet Bomber Explodes Over Little Rock, 5 Persons Known Dead

Plane Ditched at Sea, 3 of 14 Men Perish

By HOWARD BENEDICT

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force tanker plane ditched in the dark 40 miles out in the ocean and three of the 14 men aboard perished. Rescue craft pulled 11 others from the water.

The destroyer Sullivan was expected to dock at Port Canaveral within the hour with 10 of the survivors. One man was brought to shore by helicopter.

Flare-shooting, flashlight-blinking men in the water furnished their own beacons for ships and planes that went to their rescue after the big Tampa-based Stratolanker came down Wednesday night on Atlantic swells 40 miles east of Cape Canaveral, the missile test center.

The Air Force said the surface craft would bring their survivors to Port Canaveral. Conditions of these men were not listed.

J. John Rogers, about 25, first rescuee, was brought to Patrick AFB by helicopter four hours after the tanker plane hit the sea. His condition was termed good.

The Navy destroyer Sullivan picked up five men and a commercial wine tanker, the Angelo Petri, rescued three. Another surface craft, not identified, took on two survivors. Their names and conditions were not at once known.

Rescue pilots spied floating crewmen in life jackets and rubber rafts in the darkness three hours after their KC97 stratolanker went down on a flight from Newfoundland to its home station, MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa.

Helicopters and the surface ship immediately began a pickup operation in moderately calm seas with flares lighting up the darkness.

The tanker plane hit the sea about 8:30 p. m. after radioing it was preparing to ditch, reportedly because of engine trouble.

Rescue pilots reported that wreckage of the ditched four-engine plane still was afloat.

The rescue craft continued crisscrossing the area through the night, searching for other survivors.

Newsmen were not allowed to interview Rogers when he was helped out of a helicopter at Patrick and put to bed at the base hospital. Officers said he was too tired to talk.

Cmdr. Donald M. Reed, executive officer of the St. Petersburg Coast Guard Air Station, said Rogers "didn't say a word" when he was hauled into Reed's plane on a sling lowered to the ocean surface.

"He was very tired," Reed said.

Reed said "we saw this man (Rogers) hanging onto a piece of wreckage, and hovered over him. We lowered a hoist with a sling on it, and he was able to get in."

Welfare Group Has Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth meet today to plan a move to permit study of proposals or recommendations by delegates before they are approved.

The state's delegation, led by Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams, yesterday protested not being allowed to see reports before they are up for Conference action.

"We object to being bound in advance," Adams said. He said the group hopes to figure out some move to present to the general conference.

Adams said a spokesman would propose that the conference take no final action until state groups can study the report in their home organizations.

Kefauver in Defense of Rights Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told the Senate today his proposed amendment to the voting referees part of the civil rights bill would help rather than hinder the registration of Negroes.

His amendment, backed by a 7-6 vote of the Judiciary Committee, is the latest storm center in the battle over the legislation.

Opponents contend the proposed change would undermine the proposed court appointed referees to prevent discrimination against the Negroes seeking to register and vote.

Kefauver accused them of "drawing on their imagination."

The amendment would require that registration proceedings conducted by the referees be open to the public and that county or state registrars be given an opportunity to be present and make a record of the proceedings.

He said his amendment should be accepted if the Senate didn't want "these referees to be made a political tool of the party in power."

Under the bill as written by the House, Kefauver said, referees could accept registration applications anywhere and at any time—in private homes, on the streets, in fields, and in the dead of night.

Kefauver said that in case of a close election, it would be easy for the party in power to insist that the referees get busy registering persons belonging to the party.

The Senate bogged down in dispute over the Kefauver amendment after quickly accepting all 14 other changes recommended by the committee.

"The Senate got around to the issue after a surprise burst of speed on other changes."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) said this didn't signal any collapse of the fight he and other Southern senators have been waging.

Flaming Debris Sets at Least 7 Houses Afire

By BOB STARR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A flaming six-engine jet bomber exploded over Little Rock today and rained debris and death in its plume near the Capitol.

At least five persons, including three crewmen, were killed. Two civilians were known dead.

Flaming debris set seven or more houses afire and wreckage shattered windows for blocks around.

One airman parachuted to safety. He was burned seriously.

The B47 bomber had taken off only 10 minutes earlier on a training flight from its station at Little Rock Air Force Base, a Strategic Air Command facility. A base spokesman said the plane was capable of carrying nuclear weapons, but had none aboard.

One piece of wreckage dug a fiery 25-foot wide hole in a residential section near the Capitol. Seven homes were destroyed by fire there.

The fuselage crashed into the small home of Mrs. A. L. Clark in Pulaski Heights, two miles from the Capitol.

Mrs. Clark was trapped and perished in the flames.

The body of another civilian, Jimmy Hollough, 27, was pulled from debris near the Capitol. Nothing was left of his home except the foundation. It was about 25 yards from the eight-foot deep crater which the wreckage dug.

Bodies of two of the airman were recovered from the wreckage near Mrs. Clark's home. The Air Force said the body of the third crewman also had been found.

The dead airman were identified as Capt. Herbert J. Aldridge, 37, San Antonio, Texas; Lt. Col. Reynolds J. Watson, 43, Athens, Ga.; and Sgt. K. E. Brose, 25, Kewanee, Ill.

Lt. Thomas G. Smoak, 20, Richmond, Va., parachuted; he was taken to Arkansas Baptist Hospital in a serious condition.

Firemen said three homes near the Capitol were so badly burned that no one in them could have survived. Officials reported, however, that as far as they could determine everyone had fled to safety before the flames enveloped the houses.

At first there were reports of a collision between the jet and a light plane over the Little town of Mayflower, 15 miles north of Little Rock.

The Federal Aviation Agency at Adams Field, Little Rock's municipal airport, said observers probably mistook a falling wing for another plane.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A six-engine jet bomber exploded over Little Rock today, showering flaming wreckage and death in its plume near the state Capitol.

An Air Force spokesman reported three crewmen were killed. At least one civilian man died in a house fire touched off by debris. A woman was reported "trapped in her burning home."

One airman parachuted to safety but was burned seriously.

The B47 jet was on an early morning mission from Little Rock Air Force Base, a Strategic Air Command installation.

Reports persisted that the jet collided with a light plane over the small town of Mayflower, 15 miles north of Little Rock, and roared on into Little Rock.

At least seven frame homes were destroyed as portions of the bomber dug a fiery 25-foot grave near the Capitol building.

Bodies of two crewmen were pulled out of fuselage wreckage which crashed into a house in the fashionable Pulaski Heights district, two miles from the Capitol.

Fire Hose Is Used to Stop Tex. Sitdown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Powerful streams of water from fire hoses churned into a group of several hundred young Texas Negroes.

A thousand others chanting the Lord's Prayer paraded through the streets in Louisiana's 24-story state capital at Baton Rouge for a protest assembly.

Those were major developments Wednesday in the unfolding campaign of the South's Negro youth to obtain service at lunch counters traditionally reserved for white patrons.

The fire hoses went into play at Marshall, a town of 30,000 in the East Texas oil and farming region, to break up an assemblage at the courthouse square protesting lunch counter incidents which had brought arrests.

The incidents started as Negroes tried for the third time in a week to patronize lunch counters. Police made 55 arrests for unlawful assembly, then took into custody 200 more who gathered at the courthouse singing the "Star Spangled Banner," "God Bless America" and similar songs.

The crowd re-formed faster than it could be thinned by arrests, at one time pressing forward to the courthouse steps only to be warned by the district attorney.

When officers started freeing those who had been taken into custody and they joined the crowd outside, firemen turned loose the hoses. Order was restored.

Shortly after the 1,000 students of Southern University, Negro state college and supporters staged their rally on the capital grounds at Baton Rouge, the university announced the ousting of 13 from its rolls.

Dr. Martin L. Harvey, university dean, said the disciplinary action was taken for "violating university regulations, relating to insubordination, and conduct unbecoming to Southern University students."

The march on the capital by the crowd singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was to protest segregation practices which had resulted Monday in the jailing of several Negro students after Louisiana's first sitdown at a white lunch counter.

Other developments nationwide in the sitdown story:
1. Issuance in New York of an advisory document, for the guidance of the Episcopal Church's three million members, expressing general sympathy with the sit-in movement.

2. A 42-15 vote of the California Legislature to commend the demonstrators in the South.

3. A news conference statement by President Eisenhower of confidence that eventually America's conscience will give equal rights to all. He declined to pass judgment on stores which sell Negroes goods in some departments but bar them from lunch counters.

Army Plans to Exploit Its Lonely End
WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Army's football coaches hope to expand and exploit their lonely end offense next fall to a greater extent than ever before, even though they won't have the stars who made it work for the past two years.

"The simplest way to put it is that we're going back to a running attack more than we have in the past two years," said Head Coach Dale Hall during spring practice.

"We have some new ideas we are going to try—to take advantage of the running situations the formation offers."

Hall wasn't just being modest when he used the pronoun "we." Ever since his predecessor, Earl Blaik, convinced his staff of the feasibility of this radical move of setting an end far apart from the rest of the team and not even bringing him into the huddle, the entire Army staff has been contributing fresh ideas on how to make the most of the formation.

Hall still looks unbelieving when he talks about last season, his first as head coach. Bob Anderson, a great running back, hurt a knee in the second game and never fully recovered. The first three fullbacks all went out. Hall counted 28 major injuries — and he doesn't call them "major" unless the player misses two games.

"In a way it was a blessing because it forced us to play a lot of fresh young kids. They got some experience they wouldn't have had if the others weren't injured," Hall said.

Those are the ones Hall is counting on this year. Nine places on the first two teams must be filled.

Next Monday Big Event in Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The big event of the television week takes place next Monday, when NBC broadcasts the motion picture Oscar award ceremonies from 10:30 to midnight (EST).

This year the network has thoughtfully added a half-hour preliminary, "Oscar Night in Hollywood," filmed in Hollywood's Brown Derby restaurant, when many of the stars will be introduced and the women in the home audiences get a chance for a good look at the glamorous clothes.

It will be, however, a TV week with a wide variety of offerings. Tonight, for instance, there is the window show of the long-running Lucy-Desi series, concluding because of the couple have separated. This hour-long comedy on CBS (9-10) is "Lucy Meets the Mustache."

In addition, CBS' "Person to Person" (10:30-11) devotes its whole program to a visit to Vatican City, including the famed Sistine chapel. Saturday brings NBC's "Mr. K. in France," another chapter in its "Journey to Understanding" series (9:30-10:30 p.m.).

Politics loom importantly on the Sunday schedules. CBS' "Face the Nation" (4:30 p.m.) presents Sen. John F. Kennedy and NBC has Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey—both facing the Wisconsin primary vote later in the week, and ABC starts a new series, "Campaign Round-up" (4:30) where issues and trends will be analyzed.

Playhouse 90 bumps Ed Sullivan from CBS to present (8-9:30 p.m.) a drama about a future war called "Alas, Babylon," with Don Murray, Kim Hunter and Dana Andrews. NBC's Sunday Showcase is "Hollywood Sings," about movie music, with Tammy Grimes and Eddie Albert.

Tuesday's NBC Startime (8:30-9:30 p.m.) is a suspense drama directed by Alfred Hitchcock called "Incident at a Corner."

All times Eastern Standard

"Music for a Spring Night" (ABC, 7:30-8:30) on Wednesday will feature ballad singers; Perry Como's show (NBC, 9-10) will have Eve Arden as a guest, and CBS' Steel Hour (10-11) will be a period comedy called "How to Make a Killing," with Eva Gabor as a light-hearted murderess.

Peggy Lee will be the star of Thursday's CBS revue (10-11) assisted by Jose Greco, Felicia Sanders and Earl Grant.

Still Trading, Says Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "We're not through trading yet," San Francisco Giants' Manager Bill Rigney said today. He was talking about the deal that brought Jim Marshall to the Boston Red Sox in return for pitcher Al Worthington.

What Rigney referred to was the Giants' obvious desire for another left-handed hitting outfielder, with the two best bets now playing for the Chicago Cubs — Walt Moryn or Irv Noren.

The Giants are building up their bench with Marshall, a throw-in with catcher Sammy White in the Red Sox deal for Russ Nixon with Cleveland. The deal that was nullified when White quit baseball.

Worthington, a 30-year old right-hander, gives the Sox more right-handed pitching strength.

Italian Official Dies

SAN MARINO (AP) — Onofrio Pastori, who served 10 terms as chief of state of this tiny Italian peninsula republic, died Tuesday night of a heart ailment. He was 89. San Marino has twin chiefs of state, called captains regent, who are elected by Parliament for six-month terms.

age, faculty advisor.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Caldwell of Hope announce the birth of a baby girl, Kathryn Rae, who was born March 29 at Memorial Hospital. The maternal grandparents is Mrs. Ray Alexander and the late Mr. Alexander of Sapulpa, Okla. Paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caldwell of Ada, Okla.

Palmer Has Earned $26,800 This Year

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Lalmern the hottest pro on the golf circuit this season, has earned $26,800 in prize money from 12 tournament entered. Palmer, who plays out of Ligonier, Pa., holds top spot in the Professional Golfers Assn. tournament four weekly standings released Tuesday. He won four of the events entered and was in the top five in seven.

Cutting Refund Check Is Horrible

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Clark Jr., was wandering about with a pair of scissors, looking for something on which to try them, when she found a slip of paper on top of the television set.

She was whacking busily when her mother found her — and discovered the remains of the family's $335.05 federal income tax refund check.

The Internal Revenue Service said it will issue a new one.

Chancellor Resigns

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Lawrence A. Kimpton, 49, chancellor of the University of Chicago since 1951, resigned Tuesday but he says he is not planning to take over as head of another university.

Kimpton said he is leaving his post because he has achieved the goals he set when he was named to succeed Robert Maynard Hutchins and he believes the welfare of the university requires a periodic change in leadership.

DOROTHY DIX

Scheming Daughter Would Wreck Father's Life

Dear Dorothy Dix: My mother died and left my sister and me. I have two babies.

My father remarried. I tried to break them up.

She is a good woman, but I just don't like her. I am getting him on my side. Now he yells at her in front of me and takes my side. I think his grandchildren and I come first. I don't want my Dad to leave everything to her. I want him to come and live with me and then he could help us out and it would not cost him so much to live. —Not-Until-I-Win

Dear Not-Until-I-Win: Your father has a right to his life with this woman he loves—or did, till you began spinning your web of intrigue and falsehood. What a lot of trouble you are piling up for yourself! As I've often said, we can do anything we want in this world—murder, lie, steal, cheat—anything, but we cannot fix our punishment. Of one thing you can be certain, it will be far worse than anything you could ever imagine.

Unless you change your ways, you'll be hit where it hurts the most, for the law of compensation never fails.

Get busy and right some of the wrong you've already done. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet on Stepchildren.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 15th birthday is coming soon. I am planning a birthday party and want to invite five boys and four girls so that altogether there will be ten counting me. One of the girls is a dud. She never listens to the radio, even though she has one, doesn't know which records are popular, and isn't interested in boys. She invites me to her parties which puts me on the spot. I feel I HAVE to invite her. I have a hard time keeping myself from getting into arguments with her. Should I invite her or not? —M.R.B.

Dear M.R.B.: Alas, your letter arrived too late for me to reply before your birthday party. I hope it was a success and I hope you didn't invite the difficult girl. Above all, be sincere. If you don't like this girl, cross her off your list. To go to her parties and invite her to yours—feeling as you do, is the height of insincerity. Be yourself!

Dear Dorothy Dix: This is an appeal to young widows who may be able to help me solve my problem. Please print my letter.

I am a young widow in my late twenties, with five children. My neighborhood sponsors the Senior Citizens Club but nothing for young widows. For women like myself who want to rebuild a new life, the evenings are long with nothing to do. In a sense we are outcasts. Why? Most of my former friends are married and have no need for my friendship. I would like to see how others found a solution for this problem. —Y.W.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Tennessee is known as the "Volunteer State" because of the many volunteers it furnished the U. S. Army in the Mexican War of 1846.

She was charged with being a delinquent juvenile, the only charge that can be placed against a person of her age in Texas. Donna was committed to the Martineau Juvenile Hall in Corpus Christi, Tex., pending a hearing April 6.

Donna ducked behind her desk and placed cartridges in the weapon moments before she fired.

The shooting occurred during a science class with about 20 pupils in the room. Teacher George Frank took the pistol from Donna without a struggle.

Donna story related that Young Whitford and Kate McCoy, 15, dated for a time. Then Kate broke off the romance.

Whitford went to the McCoy home and declared:

"If Kate won't go out with me, she won't go out with anyone."

Donna, a close friend of Kate, told officers she considered the statement a threat against Kate's life.

Proclamation

National Library Week

WHEREAS, we live in a world which demands a re-dedication of the enduring intellectual and spiritual values essential to the progress of a free people in a free society;

WHEREAS, our libraries make accessible the accumulated experience of all mankind, from which present and future generations may derive the wisdom and understanding vital to our national survival;

WHEREAS, the development of life-time reading habits are necessary for individual fulfillment and for achieving the highest qualities of citizen capability;

WHEREAS, the freedom to read is the responsibility and privilege of all people in a democracy;

NOW, THEREFORE, I Sam C. Andrews, Mayor of the City of Hope do hereby proclaim the week of April 3 to 9, 1960 as Library Week and urge all citizens to unite in this national effort to achieve a better-read, better-informed America, to stimulate interest in libraries of all kinds — to the end that we realize the full potential of our national purpose.

Signed: Sam C. Andrews

Fears for a Friend, Kills Youth, 15

ALICE, Tex. (AP) — Donna Dvorak slept restlessly. Finally she awoke at 2 a.m., tormented by fears for a friend's life. Then she reached a painful decision.

She slipped through her darkened home to where the family kept a .22 target pistol. She put it in her school bag.

And Wednesday she arose from her seat in the back of a classroom at Dubose Junior High and shot and killed Bobby Whitford, 15, sitting 25 feet away at the front of the class.

This was the story the petite, blonde 14-year-old told Deputy Sheriff Bob Miller and reporters.

Friends called the girl quiet when with people, but tomboyish. She is an expert with firearms.

Her lawyer, Homer Dean Jr., issued a statement that "in her 14-year-old mind" the girl thought she "did the right thing in protecting a friend."

Donna story related that Young Whitford and Kate McCoy, 15, dated for a time. Then Kate broke off the romance.

Whitford went to the McCoy home and declared:

provision for bans on the two chief weapons used so far by Negro leaders in their campaign against the government — work stoppages and demonstrations.

With South Africa's 10 million Negroes forming the hard core of the nation's labor force, the emergency regulations make it an offense to organize a work stoppage or for anyone to stay away from his job with the intention to cause "general dislocation or disable any industry or undertaking."

Magistrates and police officers are empowered to ban meetings or processions—the only exceptions being church meetings, school classes and funerals of persons who have "died from causes other than violence."

The proclamation warns that force may be used if any gathering fails to disperse after three commands in a loud voice.

The armed forces were called out in the Cape Town area after 30,000 Negroes demonstrated there Thursday under the barrels of police guns. Police held their fire, and the demonstrators eventually dispersed quietly.

Fears of a similar demonstration in Johannesburg led to special precautions there also. It was believed the army convoy brought detachments of the white citizens' defense force alerted Thursday or regular troops to augment the police.

Nervous whites among Johannesburg's one million population still rushed to buy arms and ammunition. A press survey reported 1,000 firearms sold in the center of the metropolis since last Saturday. Many stores were sold out of revolvers and automatic pistols.

In New York, the United Nations Security Council went into its second day of debate on the race conflict in South Africa.

Several delegates said they thought severe penalties could not gain approval of the 11-nation council, but that a strongly worded resolution calling on South Africa to soften her racial policy would be adopted.

The council was convened to deal with the situation arising from the killing of 72 Negroes by South African police during demonstrations last week against the identification passes all Negroes were required to carry. The government suspended the pass requirement, but the Negroes now are demanding its abolition.

Says Labor Controls Two Big Rackets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets committee said today mobsters and corrupt labor union officials have permeated the jukebox and pinball gambling machine business.

In a report to the Senate the committee charged that original operators of these coin machines had connived with crooked union bosses to set up a monopoly—and thus literally paved the way for tough gangsters to muscle in and take over.

Now, the senators said, the mobsters are scheming to take over the legitimate coin-operated vending business, which "as yet seems to be comparatively untainted."

This was the committee's last scheduled report to the Senate on three years of investigation of corruption in the labor-management field.

Unanimously, the eight senators said their hearings on the coin-operated machine industry's troubles had revealed a classic example of what can happen when employers and crooked unionists connive.

As they have done in all of their prior reports, the senators denounced Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and some of his top aides, calling them part and parcel of the alleged conspiracy.

Hired hoodlums and crooked deals with Teamsters Union and other union officials provided an enforcement arm and protection for the operation, the senators said—until the mobs moved in.

It listed the cities as New York; Chicago; Detroit; Denver, Colo.; Cleveland, Ohio; Los Angeles, Miami, Fla.; New Orleans, La.; Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Wash., and Youngstown, Ohio, all subjects of extensive committee hearings last year.

Allied Test Ban

ing to control details. Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin said the Western proposals are "an encouraging step forward," but require extensive clarification.

He told newsmen he will submit questions on the plan at subsequent meetings of the three-power treaty negotiations after the Camp David proposals worked out by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, have been studied in Moscow.

In the 10-nation disarmament conference, also sitting in Geneva, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin proposed that a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests be linked to a promise from world powers to renounce aggression and use of atomic and hydrogen weapons. He said these steps should be taken in advance of a general disarmament treaty.

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain today offer the Soviet Union their counterproposal for a ban on most nuclear test explosions and a short-term moratorium on the rest.

The plan, worked out by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was to be introduced at the resumption this afternoon of the three-power test ban conference.

The conference recessed last week to await results of the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting at Camp David, Md.

The Western plan calls for a detailed system of international controls to be worked out before a test ban treaty is signed. In the 17 months delegates of the three nations have been meeting here, considerable progress has been made on a control organization, although major points of disagreement remain.

There was no official Soviet reaction to the American proposal in advance of its presentation to the conference. But the Russian delegation's chief scientific adviser gave what could be an indication that the Russians would concur in time to demand immediate agreement on a ban, with controls to be worked out later.

In a statement to the Soviet news agency Tass, Pyodorov urged the United States to agree at once to a treaty so that control methods could be developed by practical experience.

"The practical realization of a control system and the experience of this work will be of much greater use for improving the methods of detecting banned blasts," than protracted discussions," the Soviet scientist said.

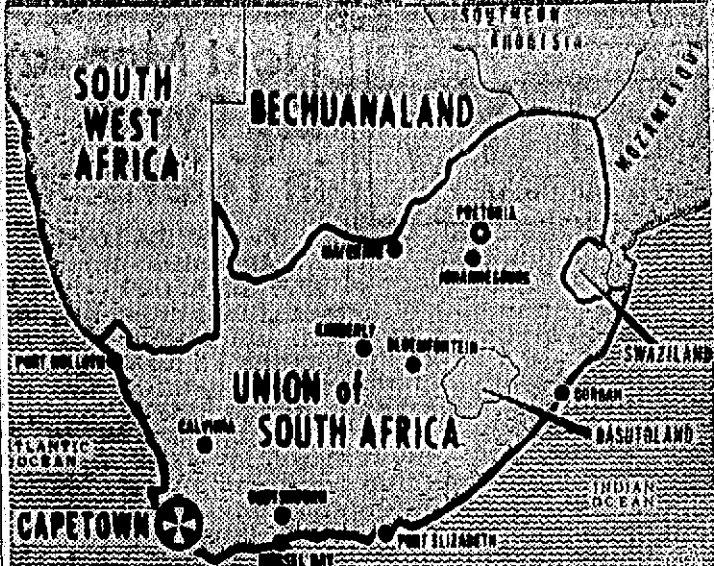

Pyodorov also said the Soviet Union had never set off an underground nuclear explosion.

The two Western powers promised they will join the Soviet Union in a temporary moratorium on small underground tests that cannot now be detected by monitoring instruments. During the moratorium, the three nations should join in a scientific search for ways to detect such explosions.

The first proposal for a partial test ban came from President Eisenhower on Feb. 11. It introduced a "stop-the-fallout" program it would have banned atomic and hydrogen explosions on the earth's surface, in the oceans, and in the atmosphere along with all detectable underground tests. However, the Eisenhower plan did not apply to the smaller, undetectable underground tests.

The Soviet Union attacked this approach until March 19, when they reversed themselves and called for a partial ban with a four or five-year moratorium on the lesser explosions.

The U.S.-British formula differs from the Soviet proposal primarily in proposing the small-blast moratorium for only a "brief" unspecified period.

Cubs Come Up With a Rookie Sensation

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Again the Chicago Cubs come up with the rookie sensation of the Arizona spring baseball training camps — outfielder Lou Johnson.

The survived a beating, a team hit accident and six seasons in the lower minor leagues to get his big chance and he's making the most of it.

Wednesday, as the Cubs eluded the San Francisco Giants 13-10, Johnson collected two singles and a home run in four times at bat, boosting his average to .335. He leads the club in runs-batted-in with 13 and in doubles with 5.

Last season George Altman drew the spring raves with the Cubs and went on to be a regular outfielder. This time it could be Johnson winning a starting spot in right field. Both George and Lou came to the Cub organization in a 1955 transaction with the Kansas City Monarchs Negro club.

In 1959, Johnson batted .316 with the Class A Lancaster, Pa., club of the Eastern League and finished the season with 30 games at San Antonio batting .327 in the AA Texas League.

That brought an invitation to the Cubs' instructional rookie camp here.

"I looked in the papers and saw all the outfielders the Cubs had. So many in front of me and I was worried," the 25-year-old outfielder recalls. "But I decided I'd try to show them all I had."

Forty-two prospects reported to the rookie camp with Johnson and Sammy Drake the only two still with the parent club.

Johnson's first experience in organized baseball came in 1953 when the New York Yankees signed him and farmed him to the Olean, N. Y., club. His season ended abruptly when he was felled by a pitched ball.

The next year he played part of the season with a club in his home town of Lexington, Ky., and in 1955 saw service in the Pittsburgh Pirates. Released again, he went with the Monarchs and then to the Cubs.

With Ponca City in the Sooner State League, a Class D outfit, Johnson's misfortune continued. A station wagon used as a bus to carry players overturned en route to Muskogee Okla. Johnson lost a part of one ear and was out of action for a month.

Lou continued in Class D as late as 1958 when he batted .365 with Paris, Ill., of the Midwest League. But that season sent him on his way up baseball's ladder.

Monitor Is Fired, Will File Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawrence T. Smith, fired after he refused to resign as a court-appointed Teamsters Union monitor, says he will appeal his ouster to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Smith said he knew of "no conceivable reason" for his dismissal and added he could be removed only for cause. He has been volunteering against Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue on methods for cleaning up the Teamsters Union headed by James R. Hoffa.

U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Lotts Wednesday ordered Smith's immediate removal as a monitor. He gave no reason, but said he acted after Smith rejected the judge's request that he resign.

Smith, a New York attorney, has taken the position that the monitors were focusing almost all their attention on steps aimed at removing Hoffa from the union's presidency.

Smith contended that as a result the monitors have neglected other work—especially complaints from union members about the way their officials have conducted union affairs. He said O'Donoghue's methods "will let Hoffa and the worst hoodlums escape justice."

Ike Looking Forward to Summit Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is looking forward to a different kind of summit conference at Paris next May.

He wants some sessions to provide for strictly private conversations among himself, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President's interest in getting the Big Four to "explore each other's minds" emerged at his news conference Wednesday. His statements to reporters also developed another intriguing prospect for the future.

The Eisenhower administration seems destined to become increasingly in its closing months a kind of caretaker government. Eisenhower did not use any such term as that but in replying to a question about the possibility of a second summit conference late this year, he noted that more and more questions would arise about his ability to make commitments running beyond the end of his term next January.

At the same time, however, he left no doubt that if a crisis should arise he intends to take whatever measures are necessary to meet it.

But Eisenhower's own concept probably means that at the Paris conference he will be looking for ways to solve only the more immediate East-West problems and in such a way that there would be little doubt of his successor's Europe has more sheep than any other continent, about one-fourth of the world total.

Phils May Have Only 2 Regulars From Last Year

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — This is shakeup year for the Philadelphia Phillies. Manager Eddie Sawyer is toying with a lineup that would include only two of last year's regulars.

"We're going to go with the kids as much as possible," said Sawyer. "We got rid of a lot—Ritchie Ashburn, Willie Jones, Gene Freese, Ray Semproch, Chico Fernandez, Carl Sawatski. Most of the new players are kids, except for Alvin Dark. You need experience of the right kind in an infield."

One of Sawyer's key experiments has been using Panchito Herrera (.329 at Buffalo) at second base. Although he is 6-3, 225-pound converted first baseman, he hasn't been doing a bad job and is hitting over .400.

Eddie Bouchee (.285) is the first baseman. If the Herrera experiment fails, George Anderson (.218) would return to second. Joe Koppe (.261) at short and Dark (.264) at third will be the infield with Ted Lepcio (.200 at Boston and Detroit) as a spare. Only Bouchee and Koppe were regulars last year with the Phils.

Bobby Del Greco (.286 at Buffalo), who has flunked previous trials with several clubs but still is only .26, may be the center fielder. Johnny Callison (.299 at Indianapolis), the Chicago White Sox's loudest rookie of last year, might displace Harry Anderson (.240) in left. Wally Post (.254) is a third 1959 regular who may have his old job in right field but he has competition from Bobby Gene Smith (.217 at St. Louis), Dave Philley (.291) and Tony Curry (.314 at Williamsport).

Jim Coker (.287 at Buffalo) was farmed out a year ago for steady work with the idea that he would be the No. 1 catcher this year. Clay Dalrymple (.230 at Sacramento), acquired in the draft, is fighting for a job. Valmy Thomas (.200) is the Phils' only experienced catcher.

The Phils' best pitcher, in won and lost percentage, won't join the club until the Boston Celtics finish their basketball season. He's Gene Conley (.12-7) the elongated right-hander. Robin Roberts (15-17) is ready to carry a heavy load again. Curt Simmons, who spent part of 1959 in Williamsport after an arm operation, was the best looking pitcher on the staff in the early games. Jim Owens (12-12) and Don Cardwell (9-10) are the other sure starters with Johnny Buzhardt (4-5 with Chicago) and Ruben Gomez (3-8) possibilities.

Dick Farrell (1-6) probably will head the relief corps with Jack Meyer (5-3) Humberto Robinson (2-4) and rookie Hank Mason (12-3 at Buffalo).

The 1959 Phils were last in the standings, last in batting and last in fielding. No wonder Sawyer is shaking them up.

Cites Enemy Subs as Very Grave Threat

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Assistant Navy Secretary Cecil P. Milne said today that the greatest challenge to the United States' control of the sea is the threat of enemy submarines.

Milne spoke at the launching of the Sculpin, the first nuclear-powered submarine built on the Gulf Coast. The 252 foot sub is scheduled for delivery to the Navy early next year.

"Today much of our attention is, with justification, focused on outer space," Milne said. "But we must not forget the down-to-earth fact that the greatest challenge to the United States' control of the sea is the threat of enemy submarines from undersea or 'inner space.'"

"The possibility for destructive submarine-launched missile raids on our cities gives the problem an urgency not known in pre-atomic years."

The Sculpin, a fast attack sub of the skipjack class, is one of four being built at Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp.'s Pascagoula yard under contracts totaling almost 100 million dollars. The contracts do not cover cost of the atomic reactor powering the craft.

Mrs. Fred Connaway of Helena, Ark., christened the Sculpin, which was named for a World War II sub commanded by her husband, Cmdr. Connaway. He died when the original Sculpin was sunk in the Pacific.

Mrs. Connaway's daughter, Mrs. Joseph D. Pope of Columbus, Miss., was her matron of honor.

The prospective Commanding officer, Lt. Cmdr. C. N. Mitchell of Syracuse, N.Y., and the sub's eight other officers, rode it down the ways.

Negro Convicted of Slaying Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An all-white jury last night convicted Clarence Stewart Jr., Negro of first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of a white man during a robbery.

Conviction carries the death penalty.

Thad Williams, Stewart's Negro attorney, said he would ask for a new trial. Sentencing was deferred for 30 days.

Stewart, of nearby Scott, was charged in the slaying of William N. Caldwell, 79, a white man's North Little Rock auto supply store Jan. 8, 1959. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

The State Hospital ruled Stewart sane. A defense psychiatrist, Dr. Elizabeth D. Fletcher of Little Rock, testified yesterday that Stewart had the mind of a 9½-year-old child, but was not psychotic.

Gashed Eye Mars Rollins' Comeback

CHICAGO (AP) — Chico Rollins' effort to make an impressive showing in his national TV ring debut was marred Wednesday night by a gashed left eyebrow.

The New York lightweight was kept from answering the bell for the seventh round in Chicago Stadium because of the cut and Chicago's Eddie Perkins gained a technical knockout victory.

The eyebrow was cut in the fourth round and bled profusely. Dr. John Pribble of the Illinois Athletic Commission examined the wound and told Referee Frank Sikora to halt the fight.

It went as a seventh round TKO for Perkins, boosting his record to 17-7. The defeat was Rollins' second in 12 starts.

Perkins weighted 137½ to 136½ for Rollins.

Bonus Baby May Pay Off at aLst

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

At age 18, Dave Nicholson pocketed $102,000 and the keys to a new car. Then he left his St. Louis home to play baseball for the Baltimore Orioles, he hoped.

That was in 1958, and the husky bonus outfielder still hasn't won a job with Baltimore.

First it was Knoxville, then down to Class B Wilson, N.C. and finally to Dublin, Ga. of the Class D Georgia State League in 1959. He started 1959 at Double A Anirillo, but after 13 games he was hitting only .222 and it was on to Aberdeen of the Northern League where he finished out the season with a .288 average, 35 home runs and 114 runs batted in.

Now the 20-year-old right-handed power hitter is at Miami in training with the Orioles, and he seems to be closer than ever to Baltimore.

In an exhibition game against the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, Nicholson homered, singled and had three runs batted in, although the Orioles lost 12-9.

In other Florida games, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees 6-2 at St. Petersburg, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 7-2 at Vero Beach, the Chicago White Sox shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 at Sarasota, and the Washington Senators outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies 11-10 at Orlando. Kansas City and Detroit were not scheduled.

In Arizona, the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 13-10 at Mesa, and the Boston Red Sox stopped the Cleveland Indians 5-2 at Tucson.

Flood Danger Still Grips the Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flood danger held an ominous grip across the Midwest today as damaging spring overflows kept thousands from their washed-out homes and threatened further evacuations.

At the same time, minor flooding erupted in some eastern areas as more rain added to the load of many rivers and streams that were running nearly bank full with melted snow.

In five states—Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri—the Red Cross estimated 4,000 persons have been driven from their homes by flood waters. Several hundred others were made temporarily homeless in other sections of the Midwest flood zone, which covered Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Rain ended in the Midwest and colder weather spread across the region, which was hit by the floods last weekend by the melting of the huge snow covering.

But in the East, rain continued and temperatures were mild. The wet belt covered the Ohio Valley and the mid and north Atlantic states. Possible flooding, although not considered major immediately, appeared likely in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New York.

The floods in the Midwest have caused at least seven deaths, including 3 in Nebraska, 3 in Missouri and 1 in Illinois. Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Although no new major floods developed in Nebraska and Iowa, two of the states hardest hit by the high water, several communities were on the alert for possible flooding.

In eastern Nebraska, the Platte River, which has caused the most damage, headed for crests at Ashland, Louisville and South Bend. The Big Blue was expected to reach its crest at Beatrice.

In northern Iowa, about 2,300 persons returned to their homes in the eastern section of Sioux City when the crest of the Floyd River passed without spilling over the levees. However, the city faced another crisis when the crest of the Big Sioux River passes the western section.

Finest Cage Play Starts at Denver

DENVER (AP) — Denver 12 comes the showcase for some of the finest basketball ever played tonight, as 96 of the nation's top amateur players start shooting in the opening round of the 1960 Olympic Trials.

Berths on the U.S. Olympic team and a trip to Rome await 12 of the best when the action ends Saturday night.

There will be talent to spare paraded before sellout crowds of 12,000 fans at the Coliseum the next three nights. The opening round shapes up like this (times EST):

7:30 p.m. — Akron, Ohio, vs. Armed Forces All-Stars.

9 p.m. — Ohio State vs. NAIA All-Stars.

10:30 p.m. — Bartlesville, Okla. vs. NCAA University All-Stars.

Midnight — Peoria, Ill., vs. NCAA All-Stars.

There's little to choose between any of the teams. All have height, strength, scoring punch, and experience. All have able coaches who have termed their squads dream teams.

Commonwealth College, for about 17 years co-operatively maintained at Mesa, was at the time one of the important schools in the country that trained for leadership in the labor movement.

Quiz Shows to Creep Back Slowly

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The big money, night-time quiz show, which fell upon evil days this season, will be slow creeping back into the television scene even though the folks at home say they still enjoy them.

"Predictions," a show proclaimed rig-proof by the cosmetics company which wants to sponsor it next season, has been "knocked down" by all three networks, and the company will drop its plans—temporarily.

The show is called rig-proof because questions would involve predictions about future events. It was turned down for reasons of "program balance" by NBC.

CBS rejected the show because it has a general ban on quiz shows. ABC — which first tentatively offered a selection of time slots for the show—turned it down finally Tuesday on the grounds it raised some possible legal problems.

Tony Curtis had the title role Tuesday night in NBC's "The Young Juggler," a tender and reverent story based on the legend of St. Bernabas.

The story, set in medieval France, concerns an itinerant juggler who, stabbed by an outraged father of a young girl, is nursed back to health by monks. Basically, the story was a religious lesson for it told how the juggler, crippled, found faith and regained his skill.

It was a handsome production, well-acted and completely in the spirit of the Lenten season.

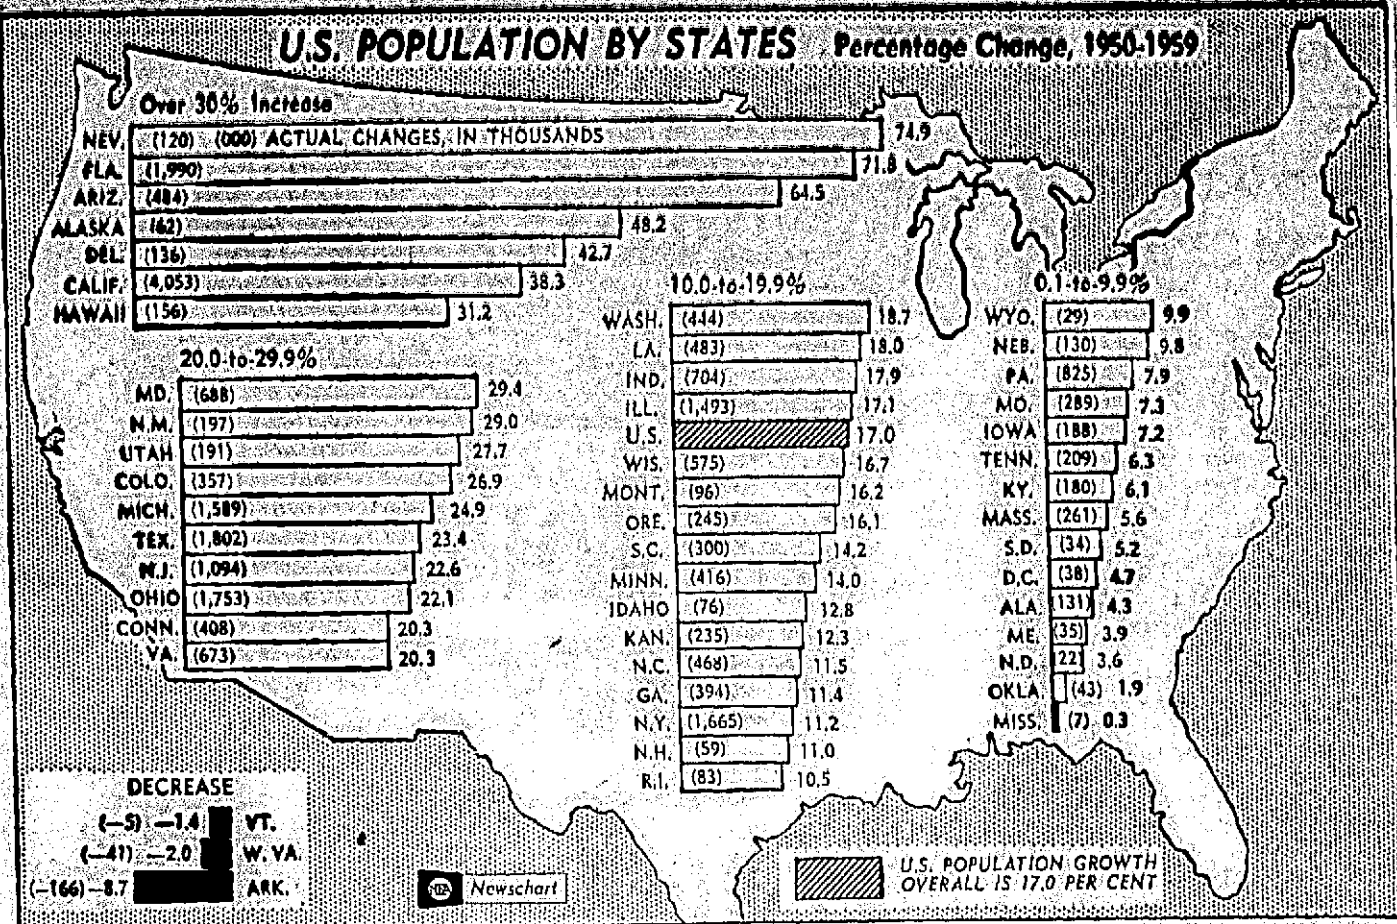

Steve Allen, whose show perked up considerably in the last few weeks, slipped back into the doldrums Monday night. Unless one hears the introduction, it's hard to tell Jayne Mansfield and Diana Dors apart because both look like slight caricatures of Marilyn Monroe. Anyway, Mae West, in her salad days did a much better job of spoofing the femme fatale.

Recommended tonight: "Music for a Spring Night," ABC, 7:30-8:30—an hour-long musical show with Roberta Peters, Robert Merrill, Eleanor Steber, Richard Tucker and winners of regional auditions of the Metropolitan Opera in a tribute to the late Leonard Warren; Circle Theatre, CBS, 10-11—drama based on the experiences of a Miami reporter arrested in Castro's Cuba.

UNCLE SAM'S GROWING, MOVING FAMILY—Uncle Sam has 17 per cent more nephews and nieces now than he had in 1950—and his family has been on the move, too. Note: overall figure for the United States includes Alaska

In 1950, excludes it in 1950, Hawaii is excluded in 1950 and 1950. All population figures include armed forces stationed in each state, but exclude those abroad. Data from Census Bureau and National Industrial Conference Board.

CHAPTER XXXIV

Bokker shook his head. "Shay finally used up all his tricks."

"You never really liked him, did you?"

Bokker looked at her sharply. Her tone was listless, containing a trace of despair, was it?

He said, "You did, though."

"Yes," she said, "I liked Paul. In spite of his faults, I guess you'd call them—I liked him."

Bokker waited, expecting Ruth Compton to continue, but she averted her eyes from his and remained silent.

He prodded: "Yes?"

"You're not an easy man to talk to!" she burst out. "You—you're always thinking of yourself and you don't see what's in other people."

"We won't get anywhere talking about Paul Shay."

"I'm not talking about Paul!" she cried. "I'm talking about—about me."

Bokker regarded her with a puzzled expression. But Ruth still kept her eyes turned away from his.

She turned away from him suddenly, feeling him too close and went behind the low shop counter. Still without looking at him she said, "I'm taking the train this morning."

"Because of the shop?"

"What else is there for me I can't pay Mrs. Melcher's bills."

"I'll pay them," Bokker said. "I mean, I'll lend you the money. I think you can make a success of the shop."

"No," she said. "I've made up my mind. I'm going home."

"To Raytown?"

"Kansas City, that's where I live."

"I suppose you'll meet Shay there."

Now she looked at him. Anger, her eyes blazing. "You never stop, do you?"

"I'm sorry," he said stiffly. "We just don't seem able to carry on a normal conversation without getting into a quarrel." He nodded and headed for the door.

"Wait!"

He turned. "Yes."

"Come to Kansas City!" she burst out. "Come with me."

He blinked, astonished and she came toward him, only the counter between them. "This is no place for you, Phil. You've had nothing but trouble. Leave Pawnee City—take the train with me this morning."

Bokker suddenly started around behind the counter, but when she saw him coming she retreated in panic. "No—no, Phil. I—I didn't mean that."

"What did you mean?" he asked ominously.

"There was no exit at the far end of the counter."

Her body was taut, but it trembled violently and as Bokker pulled her close to him, she became suddenly limp, yielding. A gasp was torn from her lips just before they met his. She responded to his kiss, almost desperately.

Then she was fighting him again, pushing him back.

"No!" she cried. "I won't—let it happen."

"You can't love him," he cried. "You don't!"

"I don't love you!"

He started to reach for her again, but saw her shrink and cringe from him.

"All right," he said dully. "I can't fight you. Take the train and go to your Paul Shay."

He turned away. The aisle behind the counter was narrow. A magazine, lying on a shelf below the counter stuck out an inch or two. Bokker's leg brushed against it and knocked the magazine to the floor. He stepped over it, but even as he did, his eyes went down to the floor.

Gasp! he snatched up the magazine.

It was a copy of Fred Cowan's Illustrated Weekly—a battered dog-eared copy. His copy, the one that had disappeared from his office.

"Where did you get this?" he cried.

She saw the magazine in his hands then, and shock hit her. "Give me that," she screamed. "Give me that!"

She flew at him, tried to tear the magazine from his hands. But it was too late. The magazine had been turned to the page containing the Lawrence sketch. It was so familiar to him that his eyes immediately caught something in the illustration that was out of place. Something different... something that had been added to the picture.

A penciled drawing of a head in the upper right corner. A rough sketch, apparently made idly and unfinished, but recognizable.

The face of Phil Bokker. A second face of Phil Bokker.

"The significance of the sketch sent a shudder through Bokker."

"Paul—Paul drew this!" he gasped.

The agony on her face told him that he had the answer at last. After so very long, he knew.

"Yes," he half whispered. "Paul Shay." The past hurtled through his mind. "Yes, it could have been Paul. He came into the hospital in August, after the raid... he was probably wounded in the retreat. And he left—he left in time to rejoin Quantrell before Baxter Springs!" The audacity of the man caused grudging admiration to filter through Bokker. "Only Paul Shay could have had gall to go to St. Louis—to a Union hospital—after what he did at Lawrence."

"Go!" she said poignantly. "All right, go. You know, so go... go!"

He brought it down to the present. "No wonder we always fought. He was always between us. You loved him and you had to shield him—you had to protect him. Paul Shay, the blackest murderer who ever lived."

"He's my brother!" she screamed at Bokker. "He's my brother! What else could I do?"

Sweet golden figs taste extra tempting in this quick pudding topped with lemon sauce.

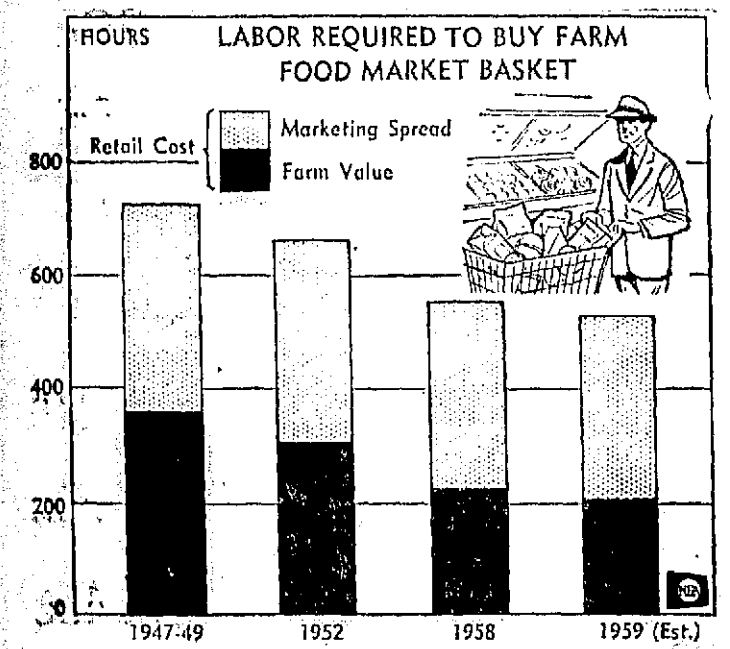

Bake Fig Pudding for the fun of it — for fun it is and right good eating. As you begin preparing dinner, it will take only a few minutes to mix the pudding batter and place it in the oven. At dessert time, bring the warm, fragrant pudding to the table and spoon tangy lemon sauce over each serving. Mixing time is short for this simple dessert, because you use enriched self-rising flour. This reliable flour already contains just the right amounts of baking powder and salt to give perfect results and wonderful home-baked goodness every time.

- FIG PUDDING WITH LEMON SAUCE
- 2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 cup finely chopped dried figs
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/4 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup melted shortening
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - Lemon Sauce

Sift together flour and sugar. Stir in figs. Combine egg, milk, shortening, and vanilla extract. Add to dry ingredients stirring until mixture is smooth. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan and bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold with Lemon Sauce.

- Lemon Sauce:
- 1/4 cup enriched self-rising flour
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 2 cups water
 - 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 teaspoons lemon rind

Mix together flour and sugar in saucepan. Add water gradually, stirring constantly. Simmer mixture about 15 minutes. Stir in butter, lemon juice and rind. Continue cooking until sauce is clear and thick.

LESS WORK TO BUY ANNUAL FARM BASKET—Wage earners had to work about three-fourths as many hours to pay for the market basket of farm foods in 1959 as they did in 1947-49. Though dollar cost has risen 11 per cent, wage rates have increased and farmers' prices have declined. Chart is based on annual purchases of farm foods by urban families in 1952; retail cost, marketing spread and farm value are divided by average net hourly earnings of manufacturing workers. Data: Agriculture Department's agriculture marketing service.

No Chance to Rig the Oscar Vote

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rig the Oscar vote. Not a chance. It might be easier to try tampering with the Electoral College.

This was my conclusion after a talk with Bill Miller, the man in charge of counting the Academy ballots for the Price Waterhouse accounting firm.

There's no chance of a fiasco like the New York banking firm's experience with the $64,000 TV show. Remember how a bank of flier stood by with two armed guards and handed over the "secret" questions.

"We don't get the academy results from the academy," Miller explained. "We get them directly from the voters. We send out the ballots and they are returned to us. After they are counted, the results are put in envelopes that aren't opened until the announcements are made on the stage of the Pantages Theater."

Miller and three assistants start the tally today in a locked room. All ballots, notes and adding machine totals are kept under lock and key. Total time for counting: 100 man hours.

The results are finished about Monday noon. Miller prints the winners on cards in large letters — so vain actors won't have to use their specs onstage — and seals them in envelopes. There are duplicate sets of envelopes.

"Contrary to the publicity, I am not the only person equipped with the results," said Miller, a good-looking, crewcut grad of the University of Southern California. "My assistant also carries a set of the envelopes to the theater, in case anything should happen to me."

The Academy has not always had such security. In the early years, the board of directors counted the ballots and there were the inevitable cries of fraud from bum losers. Price Waterhouse was hired in 1934 to assure that all was on the up-and-up.

Annual value of citrus fruits grown in Florida is about 250 million dollars.

Consumer Is Less Sure Than Banker

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The consumer seems less sure than the bankers that the threat of further inflation is a dead duck right now.

The guardians of our money tend to judge inflation by what ever money is tight or plentiful, whether interest rates are rising or falling. Right now money and credit are easier and many types of interest charges are slipping.

So the money managers in Washington and the bankers around the nation see the threat of another spurt of inflation allayed.

Consumers have another yardstick: How much it costs them to live as they want to, and how much it may cost them later on. If it costs them more, or seems likely to, in the future, price inflation isn't an academic question for consumers — no matter of statistics and charts — it's just a hard fact of life.

And right now, consumers are well aware of the rising costs of services that raise the total of their outgo each year.

Surveys of their buying intentions — that popular horoscope for retailers and manufacturers — show that consumers think prices of many things are likely to go on rising. That makes today look like a better time to buy than later, if they can find the money or the credit to do so.

The government's report that the cost-of-living index was at its peak in February and still is headed that-a-way surprised a few consumers.

And a glowing report this week by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center that three out of four Americans think good times will be around for 12 months more ended on this note: "The only dark point is concern with inflation."

At least two-thirds of the families questioned expect higher prices.

How much that colors their expressed intentions of buying more items big and small this year the center doesn't venture to assay.

But for trade and industry the big thing is that they say they are in more of a buying mood, and no why they are.

The survey taken in the first months of this year shows a decided improvement in consumer confidence over the previous one in November, when the steel strike and its possible aftermaths colored most thinking.

Three FPC members, including Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall, acknowledged that Corcoran talked privately with them while a case of the Midwestern Gas Transmission Co. was pending before the FPC. Corcoran was an attorney for a parent firm of the pipeline company.

The Justice Department spokesman said the first step will be to examine Kuykendall's testimony before a congressional committee last week.

Kuykendall denied any impropriety in the private conversations with Corcoran, as did the other two commissioners who talked to him. Corcoran was a leading New Deal figure in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The case involved Midwestern's application to build a pipeline to bring Canadian natural gas from the Minnesota border to Marshfield, Wis.

Midwestern, which is a subsidiary of Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., argued that it needed a rate of return on its investment of 7 per cent in order to borrow the money to build the pipeline.

FPC staff members recommended a rate of return of 6 1/4 per cent, the rate the parent Tennessee firm is allowed and which prevails widely in the industry.

The FPC late last October finally decided to leave the rate of return question open and grant Midwestern a certificate.

Red China to Up Steel Production

TOKYO (AP) — Red China announced today it plans to hike its steel production this year to 18,400,000 tons, a 38 per cent boost over 1959.

Vice Premier Li Fu-chun told cheering members of the nation's Parliament in Peking that Communist China will continue its "big leap forward" by also turning out 27 1/2 million tons of pig iron, 34 per cent more than 1959; and 425 million tons of coal, 22 per cent above last year's production.

The City of Pumas was named for the county surveyor who laid out the town.

Meat, Fish, Poultry Best Week Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wide variety of meat, fish and poultry, plus increasing supplies of fresh vegetables, are offered as bargains in supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

Pork is pushed in some areas, reflecting easier prices. Pork loin is the special at some Eastern stores, while picnic hams are featured in the South and bacon in the East, Midwest and Far West. In some places bacon is tied in with beef liver.

Frying chickens and chuck roast are specials in a number of stores and fish fanciers can choose from among scallops, shad, codfish steaks or fillets, shrimp, haddock, halibut, swordfish or pink salmon.

Egg prices came down again, falling 2 to 6 cents a dozen as supply lines were restored to normal after being disrupted for several weeks by late winter weather.

New potatoes from Florida are showing up in markets, but in small number, and produce men fear spuds may get expensive shortly. Both the Florida and California winter crops were held down by poor growing weather, cutting estimates to 3 million bags or less, a million below a year ago.

Some other California items are increasingly plentiful, however—namely asparagus, lettuce, broccoli, carrots and cauliflower. All are outstanding buys this week, along with cabbage, celery, endive, escarole, mushrooms, onions, parsley and sweet potatoes.

Good buys include beets, corn, dandelion and other cooking greens, collard, small to medium peppers, vine-ripened tomatoes and turnips. Artichokes, snap beans, cucumbers, eggplant, peas and squash are fairly expensive.

Best fruit buys are grapefruit, oranges, pineapples, bananas and Chilean honeydews.

Bearish Tales Are Making the Rounds

By BOB HARING

Associated Press Staff Writer

Some mighty bearish tales are making the rounds in the Amagon community near Newport.

Seems everybody there has an interest in bears lately, as a result of one story.

One night John White, sitting up alone after the wife and kids were in bed, heard an animal in his back yard. He heard a trash barrel tumble, but didn't pay much attention, figuring it was a dog seeking food.

But then the screen door was jarred heavily and White heard a loud scratching on the walls of the house. The scratching reached to the eaves and the tin roof on top of the kitchen, as if the beast were trying to pull himself atop the slick metal.

White braced himself against a door. He heard a thud—and there, through a window, he saw clearly in the moonlight a bear.

He was doing some fast thinking about where to find shotgun shells—only to recall he didn't have a one in the house.

White held the door until the noise passed. Then he went out and discovered the beast gone—but on the wall were bear claw scratches a quarter of an inch deep.

Since then, reports Amagon Mayor Erven Howard, who doubts as a correspondent for the Newport Independent, "the long or the story goes, the longer the bear's tail gets and the bigger the bear gets."

"Some can even see the beast in their back yards at night and some see him at a distance, but this is all after dark," he adds.

There is, however, no question in White's mind—he SAW the bear.

Talk about commuters! Capt. John C. Moak of the Blytheville Air Force Base commute from Little Rock.

Not daily, of course. But every week he drives from Blytheville to Little Rock, where his wife and five boys live.

Moak formerly was stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base and his wife manages a dress shop in Little Rock.

The commuting trip takes Capt. Moak longer than it took him to fly from March Air Force Base, Calif., to Hunter Air Force Base at Savannah, Ga., on Feb. 25, 1955, when he was a member of a B-47 jet bomber crew which set a cross-continent flying record.

That trip took three hours, 19 minutes and 35 seconds, an average of 641 miles an hour.

Kenneth Sherman, a sailor stationed at the Memphis Naval Air Station, got a welcome lift in Forrest City the other day.

Seems Sherman was flying cross country between Little Rock and Memphis when his private plane ran low of fuel. He couldn't find the airport but located a field on the John Lindsey farm near Forrest City and set down.

Then came the problem—how to get gas and get back up again. A call to George Hutcherson of the Forrest City airport solved the problem.

ALWAYS ON EDGE . . .

Keep The Records Straight

(Courtesy Aero Mayflower Transit Co.)

When you pack fragile phonograph records (LEFT) and china or glassware plates (RIGHT) for your move to a new home, keep them on edge. Pack them standing up, as these two smart movers are, and don't lay them flat. They should be wrapped in bundles of eight to ten records or five to six plates, with a sheet of newspaper between each record or plate. Bundles should be packed tightly, with shredded paper used as cushioning along the bottom, sides and top of the carton.

CONVENIENCE of packaged sliced potatoes means the home chef can prepare a dish like clam chowder in minimum time.

AVOID KITCHEN "BENDS" WITH

Shelf Stylers

Line your deep under-counter and cabinet shelves with protective covering materials that will help brighten your kitchen and ease clean-up chores this spring. Decorator-designed coverings such as the new Marvalon linings are available in a wide selection of workable colors and compatible prints. They have an adhesive backing which makes them easier to apply and they come in 18-inch widths, for this specific application. Plastic-coated coverings are recommended since they are scrubbable, won't shrink, fade or peel.

Army Building Up on Okinawa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is sending a battle group of about 2,000 men to Okinawa to bolster the strength of ground forces in the Pacific.

It announced today that the 2nd Airborne Battle Group of the 82nd Division, now stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C., will arrive in Okinawa in June.

"This action is being taken to give the commander in chief, Pacific, the capability for a more flexible response in the western Pacific," the announcement said.

The normal size of a battle group is about 1,500 men, but the one being sent to Okinawa will be reinforced with artillery, engineer, aviation, maintenance and other supporting units.

The Army now has four battle groups stationed in Hawaii, part of the 25th Infantry Division. There are two Army divisions in Korea, but at present the Army has only a Nike-Hercules outfit in Okinawa. The main troop strength there is part of a Marine division.

He brought gas to the field, then maneuvered Sherman out of the muddy field and into the air.

Sherman stopped again at the airport to fill up, then headed back to his base, neither he nor the plane worse for the wear.

Freighter Sold

SINGAPORE (AP) — The 10,000-ton American freighter John B. Kulkundis will be sold at auction April 12 to pay wages owed her captain and 36 crew members, an auctioneer announced today. Attorneys for the seamen, who claimed they had not been paid since last November, said a high court awarded them an order March 14 to dispose of the ship, owned by the Martis Steamship Co. of New York. The ship formerly was named the Winthrop L. Marvin.

Young Elected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bruce Young of Pine Bluff has been elected president of the Independent Theater Owners of Arkansas at a convention here.

Other officers include J. T. Hitt of Bentonville, executive vice president.

Bill Cuts Club Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Eisenhower a bill to cut the night club and cabaret tax from 20 to 10 per cent.

There was no debate and the measure was approved by the Senate in a voice vote. The House had previously passed it.

If the President approves it, the tax cut would become effective May 1.

'Startime' Offered No New Tricks

TELEVISION IN REVIEW
By FRED DANZIG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — "The Young Juggler" offered no new tricks Tuesday night.

The lily little morality play on NBC-TV's "Startime" hour was perhaps too lily, too thin to generate impact. As a black-and-white statement (in color) of man's need for religious faith, it came off as the sort of production we find so often in those morality plays we have come to know as TV Westerns.

Joseph Stefano's script was based on a 16th Century French legend once immortalized by Anatole France. The stilted TV version depleted symbols of good and had instead of flesh-and-blood types.

Chief symbol was Tony Curtis as a juggler who was more content to spend his time sinning instead of spinning. He continually spurned the spiritual solace offered by a monk, played by Nehemiah Persoff, but when his juggling proficiency became impaired by a touch of paralysis, Tony discovered the value of an abiding faith.

It was the boy-loses-faith, boy-meets-personal-setback, boy-finds-faith formula working at its cut-and-dried, least provoking level. The theme, certainly a powerful one, required more soundings, insight and subtlety to make its point more effectively.

From all this you may surmise that I found the script too superficial. The same judgment applies to Tony Curtis' acting. His work, Tuesday night was shot through with stereotyped posing, eye-rolling and head-tossing.

A documentary about Korea that had some eyebrow-raising moments was presented Tuesday night by ABC-TV's news department.

Called, "Korea — No Parallel," the hour generally recapped the story of the divided nation in the usual potboiler style. But there were two important segments.

In one, South Korean students, their faces hidden from cameras, spoke of their fears about criticizing their government and its leaders. The viewer got the impression that democracy is still AWOL in the Republic of Korea.

Produced and narrated by John Seabright, the hour ended with a meeting between South and North Korean truce observer teams, filmed at the rendezvous. The Communists refused to budge from a rather silly interpretation of their instructions and we saw and heard how the agonizing debate led to the meeting's collapse.

This documentary, prepared over a period of months, leads me to make the following point about this year's crop of TV news specials. Why is it that the important scheduled events get covered and the unscheduled, equally important, events do not? The good-will tours by heads of state, the conventions, they're all scheduled in advance and the networks package their coverage into neat bundles and sell them to sponsors. But when Prime Minister Macmillan makes a sudden trip to America to confer with President Eisenhower on an extremely important subject, special TV is falling down badly in covering the hard news. Ed Murrow, come home.

The Channel Swim: "Play Your Hunch," an NBC-TV daytime game show, adds a Friday night version starting April 15. With Alvy Griffin as emcee, the half-hour will occupy the time slot now held by "People Are Funny," which moves to Wednesday nights to April 13, replacing "Wichita Town."

Richard Coogan, who portrayed Matt Wayne in "The Californians," will star in a new Western series, "The Hawk," which CBS films is producing. Dick Clark's ABC-TV "American Bandstand" will take its viewers on a filmed tour of Fabian's home on Thursday, April 7. Clark's next "At Home" subject will be Frankie Avalon.

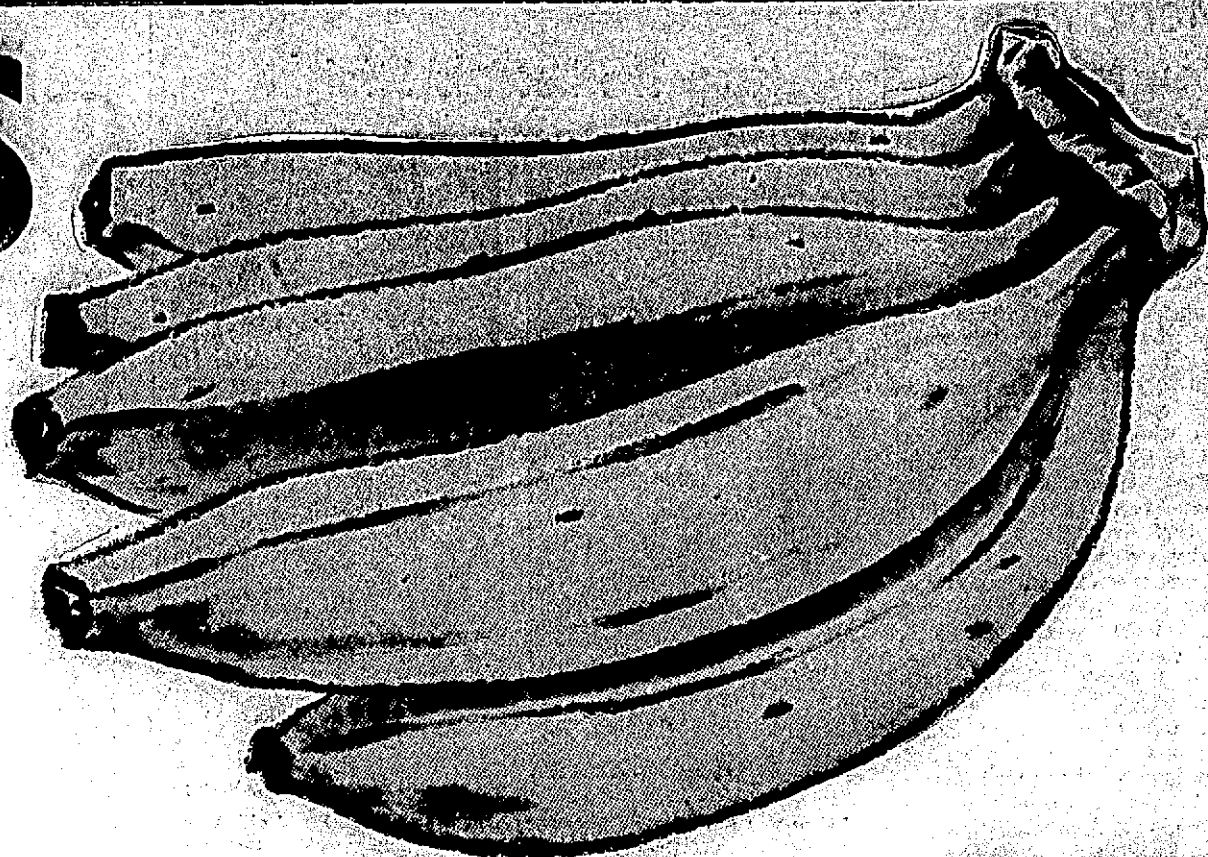

Lt. Ann Smitas is Lawrence Welk's guest champagne lady on ABC-TV Saturday, April 16. George Burns is the guest star for "The Dinah Shore Show" on NBC-TV Sunday, April 24.

Des Arc is French for "bond" or "bow," referring to the curve in White River there.

Tuna Biscuit Kerchiefs

Extra tasty with a flavorful biscuit crust, these individual tuna casseroles are grand for lunch. Serve with crisp relishes, milk, and fruit and cookies for dessert.

Take a tip from the hikers and wrap your lunch. A hiker might choose a checkered handkerchief, tie it to a stick, and set off to see the world. But your stay-at-home family can go adventuring, too—with these Tuna Biscuit Kerchiefs. How they'll enjoy the hearty tuna filling wrapped in biscuit squares.

Peas, pimiento and cheese are combined with the tuna, while chopped onion and parsley flavor the biscuit dough. You mix the biscuits easily and quickly with enriched self-rising flour. This flour already contains just the right amounts of leavening and salt.

TUNA BISCUIT KERCHIEFS

Tuna Filling:
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup diced onion
1/2 cup enriched self-rising flour
2 cups milk
1 cup drained flaked tuna (7-ounce can)
1 1/2 cups cooked peas
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
1 1/2 cups grated sharp cheese
Biscuit Squares:
3 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup chopped parsley
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 to 1 cup milk

Sift flour into bowl. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Mix in parsley and onion. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a 6 x 18-inch rectangle, 1/4-inch thick, cut into three 6-inch squares. Place each square in individual casserole. Turn tuna filling into center of biscuit dough. Bring corners to meet in center. Cut circles from remaining dough and place over center. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Every Era Produces Own Heroes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Emery era produces its own heroes, those sons of time and destiny who stand out from the crowd.

In our caveman past, the man of the hour was the guy who could biff a saber-toothed tiger in the nose with a club and make it purr like a kitten.

In days of old, when knights were bold, it was the fellow on horseback who could stick his iron lance into a charging dragon, and convert him into a chunk of smoking shish-kebab.

During World War II it was the GI Joe who could serve four years in the Army—and never do latrine duty.

But who are the shining heroes of our civilization today?

Here are a few unconventional nominees:

Any man who can catch a common head cold and keep it a secret.

Anyone with the courage to defy the mob by saying, "No, I don't hate cocktail parties, I like them."

The wife who can zip up and unzip her dress without crying for male help.

The fat man bold enough to eat a nut-topped fudge sundae without whining. "My psychiatrist says I need sweets to bolster my sense of security."

Any mother brave enough to spank a naughty child in public.

Any father sensible enough to back stop a mother up.

Any fellow smart enough to figure a way to beat the races, considerate enough to let the rest of us in on his system.

The first taxpayer who finds an honest way to cheat the government.

The first politician who announces, "What this country needs is a good five-cent hot dog" and produces it.

One wife—one single, solitary wife—who would break out with hives if she even started to use the phrase, "I told you so."

One husband—one single, solitary husband—who could truthfully complain to his wife, "Darling, why don't you talk to me anymore?"

The first doctor of 1960 who buys himself a new horse and buggy.

May Lead to a Vaccine for Cancer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Experiments with 14 human volunteers have taken a first, basic step toward creating human vaccines against cancers, a scientist reported today.

The 14 men voluntarily received injections under the skin of an apparent virus of acute leukemia which had killed other human beings.

None — all prisoners at Cook County Jail in Chicago — has developed the blood cancer or shown any ill effects a year and a half later.

But they did develop protective antibodies against the virus, as they might from a vaccine, said Dr. Stephen O. Schwartz of Chicago.

It marks a fundamental research step toward the dream of one day having vaccines against leukemia and perhaps other forms of cancer.

But there is a tremendous distance yet to go before any vaccine ever will be available. Present research has absolutely no value for treating anyone who already has leukemia, Dr. Schwartz emphasized.

Many scientists now think that viruses cause leukemia and other forms of cancer.

If such viruses can be isolated and purified, they could perhaps be killed to produce a vaccine much like the Salk polio vaccine.
